Striker School

The Striker School is an opportunity to train with our professional staff of soccer educators. Through our constantly upgraded curriculum we can ensure that attending players and coaches receive the most up-to-date technical training available. Our staff is on the cutting edge of new information in the development of age appropriate methods ensured to help your son or daughter begin to understand how to reach their potential.

The curriculum, while based on attacking methods, teaches every player to solve problems in all areas of the field through developing technical mastery as well as creativity. The Strike School staff has experience a all levels of soccer as college and professional players, youth (club and ODP), college and professional coaches as well as national and state level coaching course instructors.

Why intensive technical training? Low technical abilities lead to a low tactical, physical and psychological performance on the field. Therefore high technical abilities will lead to a high tactical, physical and psychological performance for you as a successful player!

This mastery of technique also will allow students to play at a higher speed thus enhancing their team's abilities to "win time" in games.

By using this unique methodology, students attending the Striker School will become better equipped technical and tactically to deal with situations anywhere on the field regardless of position. We are precise in our curriculum and we are demanding. Students gain a sense of confidence and also leave with a clear plan to control their own personal development in the years ahead.

Sessions are open to all players regardless of experience, abilities or position. Players will be grouped according to current age and ability in order to ensure appropriate education. We are equipped to educate players from the youngest recreational level to experienced ODP level players.

Curriculum includes (but not limited to):

Proper Striking Techniques

Bending Balls

Striking Volleys/Half-Volleys

Outside of the Foot -Volleys

Winning the 1 v 1 Battles

Near, Mid Goal and Far Post Runs

The Strikers School will provide field players an intensive training environment in a week long program designed to bring the best out of each player.

The Striker School is designed for the overall player regardless of their position. The curriculum is based on developing the overall player and teaches players to solve problems in all areas of the field through the development of technical mastery. Through our constantly updated curriculum we can insure that attending players and coaches receive the most up to date technical training available.

Introducing the Striker School

The focus is on technical development in an age group appropriate learning environment. Every player dreams of performing at the highest level, whether it be for your club team, high school varsity, state team or in college. These goals are realized by mastery of the technical aspects at young age. Tactical creativity and understanding, peak physical conditioning, mental focus and conditioning will follow as your player grows and advances through the Striker School. The knowledge and experience of our director and staff will allow each player to reach their full capability through the proper teaching of the most basic to the most advanced skills. After each technical session the staff will guide the players through games for teaching understanding.

Roby's training methodology has helped me tremendously throughout my career"
